PROBLEM SOLVING

CASE STUDY

Customer story

MhooXMind,
PetMe CEO

The reputation of PetMe Hospital, based in Thailand, suffered greatly as the company had just grown and was unable to manage its database systems. They contacted us to find a solution.

Our Plan

Set up a database to store the necessary information

Set up system administration to authorize database and network systems

Set up a network system to transmit data to another server.

PetMe's database is more organized, scalable, and the systematic transmission of data provides both positive and negative customer satisfaction.
